

TED turns dynamic pathway signals into artifact-aware event records

Detection, artifact control and biological validation remain separate, auditable targets.